

Will and Estate Planning Guide

Your Record of Key Planning Information

Writing a will

Writing a will is inherently optimistic. It reflects the fundamental belief that we can have a positive impact on the lives of others. A will lets us promote change, make a difference, and improve our communities. A will shapes our legacies, and while it is a simple and straightforward process, the satisfaction we derive from executing a will is directly related to the care we invest in its fundamental planning.

Too many people die without a will. Even though planning and finalizing a will now (or making certain it is up to date) is both practical and considerate, too many of us still neglect this essential task. Unfortunately, when someone dies without a will, state law determines how all personal assets will be distributed. Dying without a will opens the door wide for disappointment and disputes, along with many other pitfalls that can substantially increase the costs associated with estate distribution. Simply put, your will is a compassionate, cost-effective, and practical way to provide for everyone and everything you care about.

This organizer is for your personal use. It is intended to serve as a tool that helps you prepare for meeting with your attorney to write or update your will. Consult your attorney and estate planning advisors when preparing or updating your will.

Partners in the process

Although planning your will is not complicated, it's important to consult with others during the process. After you have completed this guide, the next step is to contact your attorney to begin the process. You may also want to consult other advisors. For example, your financial planner or broker can help with valuation, determining the tax status of specific assets, and identifying other planning concerns.

A representative of InterVarsity Christian Fellowship/USA is also available to provide information on gift planning options and opportunities that may be a good fit in realizing your goals. Remember, too, when you need to update your will to meet changing objectives, making alterations is relatively simple and does not automatically require preparing a new will.

Where philanthropy fits

Including a gift to InterVarsity in your will accomplishes two important objectives:

- Your gift becomes a part of your legacy because it makes a distinct impact on the philanthropic work that means the most to you. We will treasure your gift, and the people you care about will remember your generosity.
- Charitable gifts can also provide tax advantages. Your advisors can help you identify the potential tax advantages associated with specific gifts you make in your will. Our gift planning team is also happy to provide assistance and information whenever you need it.

Making a difference with a gift in your will

We are all unique individuals with our own interests and priorities. Identifying your personal planning and philanthropic goals is an important start to creating your will. Once you have identified your goals, you can consider ways to meet them. A gift in your will can be general or specific. It can be earmarked to support a particular service or program, or designated to meet overall organizational needs. You may already have a clear idea of the philanthropic legacy you want to leave, but since your choices are completely personal, they should reflect your distinct goals and objectives. You can:

- Make a gift of a specific asset or amount of money.
- Leave a percentage of your estate to InterVarsity.
- Provide a residual gift—what is left in your estate after all other obligations have been met.

The probate process

Probate refers to the legal process for transferring property when an estate owner dies. It requires presenting documents to a probate court and going through a multi-step procedure to settle the estate. When a person dies with a valid will in place, the court accepts the will and probate begins. Since court proceedings are a matter of public record, every will is available for public inspection. By contrast, a revocable living trust is not subject to probate, which means estate distribution is direct and completely private.

Trusts: where do they fit?

Trusts are another way to arrange and manage assets. A trust is a legal entity that can own property and, like a will, provide instructions for managing and distributing that property. There are two general types of trusts—testamentary trusts and living trusts. Testamentary trusts are created in a will and are irrevocable after someone dies. Revocable living trusts are frequently created by estate owners in addition to a will because these trusts are flexible as long as the grantor is alive and competent and they avoid court interference at death.

Like a will, a revocable living trust can provide peace of mind and clarity of intent while serving as an effective way to facilitate estate settlement. Unlike a will, a revocable living trust can pass property immediately and directly to named beneficiaries outside of the probate court process.

Beneficiary designations

Although a will is subject to probate, not all assets pass by will. Assets not subject to probate include all property held as joint tenants with rights of survivorship, assets that require a beneficiary designation, and assets held in the name of a trust or with a trust named as the beneficiary. Life insurance proceeds and retirement accounts, for example, are passed directly to designated beneficiaries, as are accounts with payable-on-death designations.

Be sure to consult your financial and legal advisers in considering any planned gift.

Sample Language for Donor Documents

If you are creating a new will or trust, simply adding a codicil to a will, or amending an existing trust, the following sample language may be useful to you and your estate planning attorney. This is not a substitute for the language your attorney will incorporate in your will or trust. We urge you to secure the services of an attorney competent in estate planning in your state.

Percentage Gift

A percentage estate gift involves leaving a specific percentage of your overall estate to support general ministry purposes.

I/We give and devise to InterVarsity Christian Fellowship/USA, located in Madison, WI, ______% of my/our total estate to be used to support its general ministry purposes.

Residual Gift

A residual estate gift comes to us after your estate expenses and other gifts are paid.

I/We give and devise to InterVarsity Christian Fellowship/USA, located in Madison, WI, all (or state a percentage) of the rest, residue and remainder of my/our estate, both real and personal, to be used to support its general ministry purposes.

Specific Gift

A specific amount of money or item of property may be given.

I/We give and devise to InterVarsity Christian Fellowship/USA, located in Madison, WI, the sum of $_____ (or describe property), to be used to support its general ministry purposes.

Contingent Gift

InterVarsity can be named as a contingent beneficiary.

If (insert name) is not living at the time of my demise, I give and devise to InterVarsity Christian Fellowship/USA, located in Madison, WI, the sum of $ ______ (or describe property or include wording for residual gift), to be used to support its general ministry purposes.

Note: Please contact us first if you prefer that we use your gift for a specific ministry or program.

Please provide the following information to your attorney:

Legal Name: InterVarsity Christian Fellowship/USA

Location: Madison, WI Tax ID Number: 36-2171714

Retirement Plan Beneficiary Designation

You may name InterVarsity Christian Fellowship/USA as a beneficiary of your IRA or qualified retirement plan (such as a 401(k), 403(b), Keogh, or profit-sharing pension plan). To do so, simply contact your plan custodian for a Change of Beneficiary form.

Passing such assets on to heirs can result in heirs paying income tax on the gift at their rate, and in your estate paying taxes (state and/or federal). Alternatively, naming InterVarsity as a retirement plan beneficiary and passing other less tax-burdened assets to heirs may mean less taxes for them and your estate. Be sure to consult your tax advisor regarding your circumstances.

Other Beneficiary Designations

InterVarsity can be added as a beneficiary of an insurance policy. Money held in brokerage and banking accounts can be directed to InterVarsity. Contact your insurance agent or the administrator of your financial account for procedures

Estate and Gift Planning Options

Making a planned gift—whether by including a gift to InterVarsity in your will or by naming us as the beneficiary of a charitable remainder trust, life insurance policy, or retirement fund—provides essential support for our future. When you make a gift in your will, you retain full use of your property during life, so there is no disruption of your lifestyle and no immediate out-of-pocket cost. You can also state exactly how you want your bequest to be put to use.

Up-to-date records of assets and beneficiary designations

While a will and other estate planning documents, once executed, have a fairly long shelf life, assets and liabilities change on an almost daily basis. Creating, maintaining, and updating a list of everything you own and owe will be invaluable to whoever settles your estate. That list should include bank and brokerage accounts, closely held business interests, real estate, and tangible personal property, such as fine art, antiques, jewelry, and other valuable collectibles.

Since certain valuable assets pass by beneficiary designation, it is also important to review and update these designations, especially if you have had any changes to your family, such as marriage, divorce, or the birth of a child.

It is wise to record the names and contact information of your important advisors and health care providers, as well as any information that may be helpful to people acting on your behalf. You should also create a list of digital accounts and passwords.

Getting started

The following questions are designed to help you address the key factors to consider as you write or update your will.

•	What are your primary objectives in this process? This may include providing financial security for specific family members or care for a dependent, ensuring an equitable distribution of assets, minimizing estate taxation, or carrying out personal philanthropic goals.

Notes:

• Who will you name as beneficiaries of your estate planning, and how do you specifically intend to benefit them? You might designate specific property or amounts, for example, or a stated percentage of your estate.

Notes:

•	What is the best way to deal with business interests, business relationships, or other special or unique obligations?
	Notes:
•	Who will you select to fill key roles? This includes the executor and/or trustee, and perhaps a guardian for minor children or adult dependents.  Notes:
•	Will you create or continue your charitable legacy to meaningful organizations, or even specific programs or services? Have you thought about some of the most effective ways to incorporate any intended gifts into your estate plan?  Notes:
